DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Species II (Figs.5,6 and 8) in the reply filed on 10/24/2005 and telephone interview (1/4/2006 and 1/5/2006) is acknowledged. Applicants submit that claims 9-11 read on the elected species.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nobuo et al. (JP 63058051).

Nobuo et al. disclose an air conditioner with capacity control. Referring to Fig.1, the apparatus comprises an outdoor heat exchanger 3, an indoor heat exchanger 7, expansion valve 4, a control unit 10, temperature setter 11, indoor temperature sensor 12, and outdoor temperature sensor 13. Fig.2 the programmable memory for the capacity control as a function of outdoor temperature.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
5. Claims 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nobuo et al. (JP 63058051) in view of Nishida et al. (JP 11132538).

Nobuo et al. discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Nobuo et al. does not disclose EEPROM memory means. Nishida et al. discloses EEPROM memory means for capacity and specification in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of operation control. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the apparatus of Nobuo et al. with an EEPROM in view of Nishida et al. so as to control the capacity of the air conditioner. In regard to claim 11, Nobuo et al. disclose an inverter 14 in associated with the compressor.
